Polski ślad w litewskiej prasie farmaceutycznej okresu międzywojennego
A Polish trace in Lithuanian pharmaceutical press of the interwar period

SUMMARY

The article presents Polish influences and references to Poland contained in the issues of the Lithuanian pharmaceutical journal "Farmacijos Zinios", published in the years 1923-1940. In 148 issues of the journal, the author found 82 articles and information items relating to Poland. In spite of the tense political relations between Poland and Lithuania, the reports in the journal were mostly kept in a very calm tone and a matter-of-fact attitude towards Poland prevailed in the editorial board's policy.
